Innisfree First To Oversubscribe Loan: Victory Fete Tonight

The town of Innisfree, 130 miles east of Edmonton, was the first in northern Alberta to oversubscribe its quota in the Victory Loan, 1941, passing the mark at 11 a.m. Monday. It was reported by the local committee.

Gen. LaFleche May Be Given Cabinet Post

By R. T. RICHARDSON
Edmonton Bulletin (Special Bureau)
OTTAWA, June 2.—The extent of an impending reorganization of the King ministry is subject of much speculation in Ottawa, with prospects that Prime Minister King may make an announcement of government changes before the end of the week.

Latest developments appear to be a strong likelihood that Major General R. LaFleche, associate deputy minister of war services, former deputy minister of national defence and storm commander of the Bren gun infantry in 1939, may become minister of national war services.

As a representative of French Canada he would probably replace Hon. P. J. A. Caudin, minister of transport and public works. General LaFleche is considered an asset in maintaining national unity, as he is Quebecer and army military man. He had a distinguished record in the last war and was badly wounded.

SEPARATE MINISTRY
Prospects that cabinet changes would be wider scope than anticipated earlier are seen in renewed belief that a separate ministry of information may be created. The name mentioned most prominently in this respect is Brooke Claxton, M.P. A Montreal lawyer regarded as one of the brilliant young men of the Liberal Party.

The name of J. M. Macdonnell, Toronto, financial man, has cropped to again. He is prominent in Conservative Party circles, though allied more with behind-the-scenes leadership than the present public member group. The belief is held by some observers that Mr. Macdonnell's advent to the cabinet would bring with it the admission of two or three other leading Conservatives. Interest from the side line centres on whether Mr. King prepared to meet conditions of this kind, if insisted on.

Calgary's Chief Constable Dies
CALGARY, June 2.—(CP)—David Ritchie, 50, chief constable of Calgary, died suddenly here today following a serious operation. He had been chief constable for more than 20 years.

Mr. Ritchie, M.C., is survived by his widow. There are no children. A leader in police, sports and military circles during his 30 years residence in Calgary, Col. Ritchie had suffered for some time with a

British Units Handicapped In Crete Battle

By RICHARD MOWER
CAIRO, June 2.—(CP)—From the battle of Crete, one fact is evident, the battle without air control, or even air parity, is handicapped.

The British, in Crete, had slight support during the first days of the German attack because Royal Air Force planes had been driven from the island.

EXCLUSIVE
The British, in Crete, had slight support during the first days of the German attack because Royal Air Force planes had been driven from the island.

As the spokesman for French Canada, Mr. Lapointe, talking in French and English, declared:

"We are at war, we must fight, with or without help."

The three leaders were heard to utter a national network of the

Mechanized Forces Landed At Latakia Port By Freighters

Belief Britain Plans To Block Any Substantial German Foothold In Country, Bolsters Attitude Of Turkey

CAIRO, June 2.—(AP)—Telegraph and telephone communication between Egypt and Syria have been suspended by order of the Vichy government.

ANKARA, Turkey, June 1.—(Delayed)—(AP)—German motorized infantry was landed by coastal freighters at the Syrian port of Latakia May 29, it was learned today on high authority.

The first Nazi detachments to reach northern Syria by ship were reported to be equipped with lorries, armored cars and mobile field guns.

The German transports were believed to have hugged the coast en route from the Dodecanese islands, escaping detection by British naval craft operating from Cyprus by halting in daylight hours.

Latakia is due east of the eastern tip of Cyprus.

Nazis May Try Invasion Of Cyprus

LONDON, June 2.—(AP)—Belief was voiced in London tonight that Britain is prepared to take swift action in Syria, both to block any substantial German foothold and to bolster Turkey's stand.

Turkey would never yield either to Axis threats or blandishments—she is Britain's ally—but it was acknowledged that Britain is determined to get a head start in any scramble for Syria.

This, it was said, would help to stiffen Turkey's attitude. Bordered on the European side by Germany, occupied Greece and Bulgaria, Turkey is a strategic crossroads and its control is of the utmost importance.

13,000 EVACUATED
As Britain counted the cost of her 12-day defense of Crete, other reports were heard that the Germans may attempt to invade British-occupied Mediterranean islands, Cyprus.

Slightly more than 13,000 Empire forces were declared withdrawn by Sunday to have withdrawal from the Greek island of Crete to Egypt in light again in the steadily-unfolding battle of the Nile.

British forces on the island were ordered to leave at midnight. The Nazis claimed to have captured 13,000 men—including Greeks. The war office announced "several losses."

VICTORY IN IRAQ
In addition to the fight to stem the airborne invasion is admitted—against Axis claims—to have been a series of battles, the destruction of the Iraqi army, and damage to two battleships and several other warships.

On her side of the ledger, Britain marked down victory in oil-rich Iraq under an armistice of effective yesterday morning, one day less than a month after retreat.

Pilot Dies As Plane Crashes

Pilot Stanley Warren of Mackinac Air Service was fatally injured when his biplane plane crashed in the water of the Peace river at Fort Vermilion at 10:15 a.m. Monday. It was reported by Mr. Legat, Montreal, president of M.A.S.

The pilot left Peace River in the morning on the regular mail flight to Fort Vermilion with a load of mail and express. There were no passengers on the plane.

He crashed while landing at Fort Vermilion.

Doctors worked to resuscitate him, but he died shortly after.

"We have no information yet as to the cause of the crash," Mr. Legat said. "Warren was a good pilot. He was a first-class pilot."

He crashed while landing at Fort Vermilion.

Parachute landings under cover of terrific dive bombing, strafing and high-level bombing of German command posts in the mountains, resulted in this comparatively easy dispatch of May 9. They gained many prisoners, including a captured German transport plane, JU-52, and a glider. The British also captured airdrome of Melenos and dumped reinforcements, supplies and heavy arms.

German pressure on the defenders increased. The British had some artillery, but could not complete with heavier arm armaments. The Germans had air control. They were able to operate from nearby bases in the Dodecanese islands in the Aegean Sea, and from the island of Rhodes.

Crete being the island, the British were not out to land at the airfield. They were not out to land at the airfield. They were not out to land at the airfield. They were not out to land at the airfield.

Victoria Cross Winner Of 1917 Buys First Victory Bond Here

Private Cecil John Kinross, V.C. 49th Battalion (Edmonton Regiment) of the World War of 1914-1918, enthusiastically opened the Victory Loan drive in this city by the purchase of the first bond of the $600,000,000 flotation which was opened for public subscription Monday. The hero of the standing feats of arms performed by the mighty 49th in the war record of service, signed the dotted line for a $50 bond.

William Muir of the Victory Loan committee headed a party that welcomed Mr. Kinross to the city as the first to buy a Victory Bond here. The party was met at the Union Bank depot for a short time. Mr. Kinross, who is now in the city, was met by a group of friends. He was then taken to the city hall where he was presented with a certificate of honor.

Alberta-Made Goods Drive Is Underway

Recently announced by Hon. Ernest C. Manning, minister of trade and industry, in a personal communication to the public, the promotion campaign designed to stimulate demand for Alberta-made goods is moving with an enthusiastic response, according to Mr. C. C. Clark, chairman of the provincial marketing board.

"In the short interval since mailing the minister's invitation, an encouraging number of manufacturers have written expressing approval and offering co-operation," said Mr. Clark.

The campaign involving participation by Alberta manufacturers with the provincial government, in a 40-week advertising program in Alberta's leading daily newspapers, including The Bulletin, and will culminate in a selective display of Alberta products at the Edmonton exhibition and the Calgary exposition.

The campaign is intended to stimulate interest in and the purchase of Alberta trade-marked goods so as to broaden the home market for home manufacturers, thus creating more employment and a better home market for primary products," said Mr. Clark.

"Climax of the campaign will be featured by a Buy Alberta Trade-Marked Goods Week, when retail service men will prominently bring home-made products to the attention of the public. They will be supplied with suitable window cards and streamers to popularize the Alberta goods theme."

Red Deer Has Victory March Over Week-End

Excitement in Edmonton Bulletin RED DEER, Alta., June 2.—Red Deer opened the Buy Alberta campaign here Saturday with a spectacular military parade which included 700 officers and men of the armed forces, a band and some 50 army vehicles. It was the biggest parade ever seen in this central Alberta city and was watched by a huge crowd which came from all parts of central Alberta. The downtown section of the city was decorated with flags and bunting.

The parade moved off south on Garfield street at the command of Maj. W. Cooper, of A 20 Royal Canadian Army Service Corps (Advanced) Training Centre, Red Deer. Next came a lorry from the training centre carrying twenty members of the 7th Battery, R.C.A. (A.B.). Red Deer, in battle dress with battle equipment, under command of Sgt. Maj. A. B. Henschell. Behind this lorry was a lumber and a 75 mm. field gun.

Next came a dismounted party in battle order, numbering about 200, from the training centre here. Two hundred and fifty members of Squadron No. 2 A Manning Depot, R.C.A.F., Penhold, marched under command of Ptl. Lt. O. P. Gosling, wing commander. Strung out for blocks were about 50 huge lorries from the R.C.A.S.C. training centre. Spaced at intervals in the line of lorries were four on which were Bren guns and mountings. Rousing music for the parade was played by the 25-piece Didsbury-Castlere band which came up for the afternoon.

TAKES SALUTE

Lt. Col. J. J. Burton-William, officer commanding A 20 R.C.A.S.C. (Advanced) training centre, took the salute. Also on the stand were Squadron Leader L. A. Sewell, officer commanding No. 2 A Manning depot, R.C.A.F., Penhold; Lt. Col. R. C. Lester, officer commanding 7th Battery, R.C.A. (A.B.), Red Deer; Lt. R. H. Merryweather, of the training centre and Mayor E. S. Hogg of Red Deer, who is organizer for the Victory Loan for Red Deer and district.

BIGGS SCROLL

At the saluting base, Mayor Hogg, on behalf of the citizens of Red Deer, signed a scroll which will be sent to Prime Minister Winston Churchill. The text follows: "Canada, with other nations of the British Commonwealth and with their arms, will fight on to victory, no matter how long and toilsome the road. Given the tools we shall finish the job. Canada's Victory Loan, 1941, is part of the tools. This scroll represents the pledge of our people, signed, sealed and delivered, that we shall fight on to the end, and that our end shall be victory."

Crete Battle Mad Struggle Of Two Forces

R. C. Freyberg, the commander-in-chief, had directed the last organized fight and had drawn up evacuation plans in a cave in which he had established his last headquarters. British ships had swarmed back and forth between Crete and Egypt under the protection of Royal Air Force planes.

Troops went in secret rendezvous and embarked at night under the fire of the German planes which sought them out.

The Germans had control of the entire north shore of the island and the Imperial troops were withdrawn to beaches on the south coast, leaving rear guards to hold the Germans at bay in the interior.

British warships were under order to destroy German airplanes flying over the sea along the coast and were sheltered on beaches and in seaside caves.

The number of those saved, 15,000, does not give an idea of the job the British navy did.

The Germans held all the harbors. Destroyers, mainly, nosed their way in to the beaches at night. I saw one destroyer cutting through the Mediterranean, loaded almost to its top gun stations with survivors, many of them wounded. It unloaded here in Egypt and put out to sea again at once to meet the German dive-bombing planes which swarmed it, and to go in to evacuate more men. The German planes circled the skies off Crete like vultures.

Officers told me that they and their men had no sleep and almost no food for days and that they had clambered through the hills, fighting and re-fighting, until they were at the point of collapse and their boots had been worn through.

Most of the uniforms of the men who came back were stained with dried blood. One Tommy wore a German seaman's boots.

Another wore Greek civilian trousers. A third wore a tunic which, half ripped off, showed bandaged wounds beneath.

I did not hear a jest and did not see a smile among the men who landed, but they did not complain.

"If we only had had airplane support," they said again and again, "as we have done at home, the Germans could not have used them," said one. "Their technique was perfect," said an officer. "The Germans had every gun position photographed. They came over in swarms until they had almost every one of our anti-aircraft guns." Another said: "We cleaned them up by thousands, but they never stopped coming."

Many men spoke of the ferocity of the German attack and I talked with troops who expressed the conviction, as had men who fought the Germans close on other fronts, that they had been given some sort of drugs which put them into a state of mad recklessness.

Treasury Bill Renewal Asked

An Alberta treasury bill of $2,440,000, held by the Dominion government, fell due Monday. Application for renewal has been made by the province and while there is reasonable expectancy that it will be extended, definite assurance has not been received. In the meantime the bill is in default. This bill is part of a total of $1,353,750 in treasury bills falling due between now and December 1 next.

The Dominion has renewed bills which fell due February 1 and April 15. The province has submitted to the Dominion a complete picture of its financial standing as at the end of the last fiscal year, March 31 and as this, it is reported, shows the inability of the province to meet such large maturities, it is expected an extension will be granted by the Dominion.

Also, it is pointed out that the province has taken over from the Dominion the whole burden of unemployment relief, thus relieving Ottawa of an estimated $800,000 a year.

The province last year absorbed seed grain guarantees given in 1937 of $250,000, thus relieving the Dominion of obligations of that amount and this year proposes to absorb $1,000,000 by way of similar guarantees given in 1938, which will further relieve the Dominion of obligations.

Our word platinum comes from "platin," meaning "little silver."

ALL CANADA is United in this Single Purpose

"Give us the tools and we will finish the job"

THERE IS NOT A HOME IN ALL CANADA, not a fireside or family gathering that does not quicken into rapt attention when the voice of Churchill, the articulate voice of the Empire, comes rumbling over the air waves.

To Canadians his great inspiring messages ring with pride, confidence and persuasion. Pride in what this country is doing and plans to do; confidence in the ultimate outcome of Freedom's struggle; appeal for the "tools".

Every savings account in the Dominion is a "kit of tools" for war service. Every bond you buy represents your personal share in a ship, a tank, a fighting plane to stave off the oppressor and put weapons in the hands of our fighting men.

All those valiant spirits who, day and night, are struggling to keep the skies clear, the sea lanes open, and our firebrands free from peril, unite in this single-minded national trumpet call "Lend us thine aid".

HOW TO BUY—Give your order to the consumer who calls on you. Or place it in the hands of any branch of any bank, or give it to any trust company. Or send it to your local Victory Loan Headquarters. Bonds may be bought in denominations of $5, $10, $20, $50, $100 and larger. Consumer, bank, trust company or your local Victory Loan Headquarters will be glad to give you every assistance in making out your order form.

Help Finish the Job! Buy VICTORY BONDS

Texts Of Victory Loan Radio Addresses By Churchill, King, Lapointe

LONDON, June 2.—(CP)—Following is the text of Prime Minister Churchill's talk to Canada on the Victory Loan broadcast:

I am glad to have the opportunity of speaking again to the people of Canada. Our comradeship in this the people of these islands. To the brave and gallant men and women of Canada, I have much to say. I have much to say to you, my friends, in the field of battle against the evil forces of the world. These wicked men who would destroy the deep currents of loyalty and tradition that flow between the different self-governing nations of the British Empire.

The people of Great Britain are proud of the fact that their thoughts and action they have won in the course of their long history should have taken root throughout the length and breadth of a vast continent from Halifax to Victoria.

Canadians are the heirs of another tradition—the true tradition of France, the tradition of valor and faith which they keep alive in these dark days and which will be the basis of a new and confident world, in the end, bringing again to life in France herself.

PROOF OF PURPOSE

The people of this country know that the prayers, the toil and the anxious thought of all these people are with them in their severe ordeal. Canada has given abundant proof of her purpose. Canadian troops are becoming a familiar sight in the towns and villages of England. I have met many men of the Canadian forces and I have never seen a finer body of troops. It has not fallen to them as yet to be engaged with the enemy, but they have been allotted a task of vital importance to play their part in the defense of the heart of the Empire.

And to meet the enemy should venture to come upon the very threshold of the land, and with the test, and of the test comes, and come it may, I know they will be there without a moment's delay. Those who are worthy sons of those who are worthy sons of the Vimy Ridge 24 years ago.

But this war will not be won by valor in action alone. It will be won also by hard persevering effort in peace and in factory. It will be won by the sacrifice of the miner, the farmer, the unskilled worker, my old friend Mr. Mackenzie King, of the remarkable organization which has been built up in Canada to raise the grain and wool in our history. I am confident that this tremendous effort will be crowned by success.

FROM DOWNING STREET

I have spoken to you this afternoon from this No. 10 Downing Street, here in the capital and the governing center of this battered but indomitable city and island.

Our people have been through much in the last few months. They have learned much, and some things they will never forget. But above all they have learned their own strength. They have learned their resolve under heavy hardship and danger.

None of them, none of us, doubts that together with the whole empire, together with the old world and the new world, we shall see the light of the banner and the flag of the British Empire, as long as the war may last, to do all that lies within our power to bring to ensure victory.

OTTAWA, June 2.—(CP)—Following is the text of a radio address made Sunday night by Prime Minister Mackenzie King on behalf of the $600,000,000 Victory loan, 1941:

"Tomorrow, the people of Canada will begin to take the first public loan ever sought in this Dominion. In launching the loan I am speaking on behalf of the people of Canada, to speak to the people of the British Isles.

Canada's new loan is described as the 1941 Victory Loan. This does not mean that we expect victory in 1941; it does mean that we are entering this year, and in each succeeding year, as long as the war may last, to do all that lies within our power to bring to ensure victory.

SYMBOL OF PEACE

The symbol of our united national capital, a token of victory, is the fact that we are being free from the Pacific ocean, to Halifax on the Atlantic. Thence it will be borne across the sea to the people of the British Isles. We hope it will be received by your prime minister (Mr. Winston Churchill) as a symbol of the spirit of the Canadian people, and of their determination to share the burden and your burdens, till the hour of victory.

The heart of Canada has been deeply touched by what you in Britain have been called upon to bear. We have felt deeply for you in the loss of your loved ones and your homes. Your losses and your sufferings have drawn us closer to your side, in sympathy for your grief, and in admiration of your endurance.

A century and a half ago, French Canada was the scene of sacrifice. We know, too, how through separation, slavery is increased and great intensifies. Our minds have been stricken with horror at the brutal bombing of innocent babes and little children, of men and women at their daily tasks, of the sick, the aged and the infirm.

SPIRITUAL VALUES

"We also know something of the spiritual values which attach to the spirit of the people of the House of Parliament, Westminster Abbey, St. Paul's, the national monuments, the historic churches and homes of Britain are dear to our hearts. The British Commonwealth, their worship destruction has degraded our heritage of which your ancient buildings are an outward sign. Above all, we have been inspired by your bravery, your undaunted courage, your determination to fight to the end, that the flag of a free world must fly to its own freedom on the world's free-dom.

Let me tell you, too, what the people of King George and Queen Elizabeth has meant to us. In their visit to Canada, Their Majesties have very much to say to us. Their visit still holds their place in our memories.

To the living, to their presence, we now add our highest admiration for the nobility of soul which we see revealed in Their Majesties, with smiling courage, cheer and serene confidence in the dangers and the sorrows of their people. With us as with the people of the British Isles, the same spirit is present.

SAME FORTITUDE

Regardless of fortune or circumstance, you, as one and all, to be endowed with the same fortitude and the same spirit. Do you wonder that you have made much of us when we see revealed in their presence, we now add our highest admiration for the nobility of soul which we see revealed in Their Majesties, with smiling courage, cheer and serene confidence in the dangers and the sorrows of their people. With us as with the people of the British Isles, the same spirit is present.

SHIPS OF CANADA

For 12 months you have borne the weight of the war on your shoulders, your ships, your ports, your harbors, and your homes, are still the main target. Every month from now on, as in the past, will see more Canadian ships to the aid of your defense.

Every time your ships were threatened, Canadian soldiers have stood on guard with you prepared to die for the ships of your country, that they have not the grip of the sea, but they are nonetheless proud that they have been the high duty and the great responsibility of sharing in the defense of Britain. General McNaughton (Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton) has said that there is to be a ship of the sea, the result of which will be a great victory. You know that they are ready to go and that they are equally ready to be there, as long as the war may last.

During the present year, this ship division, a task brigade, an armed force, and the maintenance, all equipped and maintained at our own expense.

SHIPS OF CANADA MAY HAVE

As you know, been engaged with you in the course of the war. Other Canadian ships are taking their part in the duties of the sea. The ships of the Atlantic, as you know, are vital, not only to the defense of the British Isles, but to the future of Canada and of the United States of America.

In this land of great horizons, your ships and wide spaces over 20 training ships, 20 training ships, and 20 training ships, are in full operation. From this source is flowing in Britain an ever-growing stream of pilots, engineers and gunners. They are already crossing in thousands and will continue to come to you in ever increasing numbers.

"England is long the mistress of the sea. Where winds and waves confer her sovereignty. Her ancient triumphs rest on high land here. And again, the sovereign of the conquered sea."

In this world of machines, we are making machines of war for you, as well as for ourselves. We will have come to and you are the food which ships can be found to carry. But we will not stop there. We require the training of your naval burden you are bearing. That burden as well as we are ready to continue to share the burden. The loan now being sought is to aid our great endeavor.

CAPTAIN OF FREE MEN

In conclusion, may I send to you, my friends, warmest greetings and remembrances of what to me has been a valued friendship of many years. It is a great privilege, indeed, to share with you some of the uncertainties and burdens of a people's trust.

I only wish I could tell you what Canada thinks of you. To you are the personification of Britain in this her greatest hour. Your noble words, your courage, your inflexible resolve, have been an inspiration and a source of strength.

Our citizens, English-speaking and French-speaking alike, and all who have come to us as an enemy, have called you as the captain of the great fleet of free men. Your leadership is marshaling the forces of freedom throughout the world.

May God continue to give to you, the strength, the vision and the great aid, as greatly needed in our great hour.

OTTAWA, June 2.—(CP)—Text of Justice Minister Lapointe's radio address broadcast Sunday night follows:

Ladies and gentlemen: We are in a most anxious hour in the history of modern history. Whether it will be a tragic tale of long, painful and bitter struggle, or whether it will end as a peaceful and better world, depends upon the outcome of this conflict.

We are fighting for survival. But we are also fighting for what Hitler took away from the German people, to make away from our liberties, our ways of life, our traditions. The freedom to do as we please.

Canada is fighting for what we have not lost and what we have not lost. We are fighting for the same things we are fighting for. We are fighting for the same things we are fighting for. We are fighting for the same things we are fighting for.

There is not one of the Ten Commandments, but one of the Ten Commandments in the sermon on the mount, against which they are not to be tempted. They have fought you to hate and despise the very thing which they cherish most. Hitler and his associates speak of a new order! What kind of world can come out of any order controlled by men?

We have never mistaken the real issue. Where it came, where you, had come to see that to preserve Canada, we must fight to preserve the world. To preserve the world must be prepared to lay down their lives.

Our armed forces, like yours, are the defenders of freedom; like yours, they are equally defenders of the faith.

And that is why we began by sending you a united national salute and munitions. That is why in the name of a united nation, we have placed one of our warships on the sea, and in the air, have grown in numbers, as we have increased the output of our armaments, and in the men and materials alike, has steadily gained in momentum, in volume and in power.

CANADA ON GUARD

For 12 months you have borne the weight of the war on your shoulders, your ships, your ports, your harbors, and your homes, are still the main target. Every month from now on, as in the past, will see more Canadian ships to the aid of your defense.

Every time your ships were threatened, Canadian soldiers have stood on guard with you prepared to die for the ships of your country, that they have not the grip of the sea, but they are nonetheless proud that they have been the high duty and the great responsibility of sharing in the defense of Britain. General McNaughton (Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton) has said that there is to be a ship of the sea, the result of which will be a great victory. You know that they are ready to go and that they are equally ready to be there, as long as the war may last.

During the present year, this ship division, a task brigade, an armed force, and the maintenance, all equipped and maintained at our own expense.

SHIPS OF CANADA MAY HAVE

As you know, been engaged with you in the course of the war. Other Canadian ships are taking their part in the duties of the sea. The ships of the Atlantic, as you know, are vital, not only to the defense of the British Isles, but to the future of Canada and of the United States of America.

In this land of great horizons, your ships and wide spaces over 20 training ships, 20 training ships, and 20 training ships, are in full operation. From this source is flowing in Britain an ever-growing stream of pilots, engineers and gunners. They are already crossing in thousands and will continue to come to you in ever increasing numbers.

"England is long the mistress of the sea. Where winds and waves confer her sovereignty. Her ancient triumphs rest on high land here. And again, the sovereign of the conquered sea."

In this world of machines, we are making machines of war for you, as well as for ourselves. We will have come to and you are the food which ships can be found to carry. But we will not stop there. We require the training of your naval burden you are bearing. That burden as well as we are ready to continue to share the burden. The loan now being sought is to aid our great endeavor.

CAPTAIN OF FREE MEN

In conclusion, may I send to you, my friends, warmest greetings and remembrances of what to me has been a valued friendship of many years. It is a great privilege, indeed, to share with you some of the uncertainties and burdens of a people's trust.

I only wish I could tell you what Canada thinks of you. To you are the personification of Britain in this her greatest hour. Your noble words, your courage, your inflexible resolve, have been an inspiration and a source of strength.

Our citizens, English-speaking and French-speaking alike, and all who have come to us as an enemy, have called you as the captain of the great fleet of free men. Your leadership is marshaling the forces of freedom throughout the world.

May God continue to give to you, the strength, the vision and the great aid, as greatly needed in our great hour.

OTTAWA, June 2.—(CP)—Text of Justice Minister Lapointe's radio address broadcast Sunday night follows:

Ladies and gentlemen: We are in a most anxious hour in the history of modern history. Whether it will be a tragic tale of long, painful and bitter struggle, or whether it will end as a peaceful and better world, depends upon the outcome of this conflict.

We are fighting for survival. But we are also fighting for what Hitler took away from the German people, to make away from our liberties, our ways of life, our traditions. The freedom to do as we please.

Canada is fighting for what we have not lost and what we have not lost. We are fighting for the same things we are fighting for. We are fighting for the same things we are fighting for. We are fighting for the same things we are fighting for.

Alberta District News In Brief

Secretary Has 34 Years Work

Thirty-four years is a long time in anybody's life, but Arthur Elson, secretary of the Fartown school, south-east of Lloydminster, can look back that length of time and tell many interesting stories connected with the school. In the service of the school since its inception in 1907, Mr. Elson has seen his son grow up, enter and graduate from the school and take up the responsibilities of guiding it.

More than that, Mr. Elson has seen the younger generation grow up and take over the duties laid down by the old. Two years ago, with the election of E. Firth, the three members of the board were former graduates who had been called upon to take over the duties of supervising the school while their children were attending. They had done a good many years' work.

This year with the enlistments for active service of Mr. Elson in the R.C.A.F. and E. Firth in the artillery, P. T. Christenson and S. Noy have been elected to fill the office vacated by J. Rowbottom, a veteran.

the First Great War and chairman of the board remains. Arthur Elze is secretary-treasurer.

Hundreds Of Students Attend Patriotic Youth Rally Here

The essence of patriotism permeated the hearts of Edmonton young people Sunday afternoon at Clarke Stadium when under the joint sponsorship of the Edmonton public and separate school boards, a stirring youth rally was staged by about 1,500 students of elementary, intermediate and high schools, together with their parents and friends.

Convention Plans

Holding the spirit of the afternoon was an address by Rev. J. L. Brown, his home appearing at the head of the procession of the hundreds of youngsters gathered about the flag-draped platform to "remember their heritage of citizenship when the time comes to assume the responsibilities left them by the present generation of adults."

Others, the speakers included Mayor W. H. Heller, who in his address, said that the youth of today are the future of the city, and that they should be trained to be good citizens. He also mentioned the importance of the youth rally in the annual convention of the Alberta Elks Association at the Elks Home Monday and Tuesday, June 9 and 10. Grand Exalted Ruler W. G. King will be main speaker at the convention.

Banner Year For Tourists Is Predicted

Troops of a banner tourist year in Alberta this season are very good, D. E. Campbell, provincial director of publicity, said in an interview here at the weekend.

"We are planning on taking care of at least 80,000 inquiries and already reports from our field parks show increases in tourist traffic," Mr. Campbell said. "There seems however, the Alberta publicity director said, to be a much greater interest in long trips."

He said that only last week he had inquiries from people in New York, Chicago and several youth and western states asking where to go after they had reached Edmonton or Calgary.

He said many of the inquiries are planning trips from Edmonton through the northern part of the province and over British Columbia to the Pacific coast. Many others are planning trips through the Peace River district and others are planning to go to the Yukon and North West Territories.

"For the first time in history the British Columbia and Alberta publicity bureaus have not yet together in a publicity effort and are jointly publishing a folder for distribution across the country showing the leading British Columbia and Alberta highways," he said.

Interest in this province has been shown further, Mr. Campbell said, by motion picture firms, those of them having made arrangements to come here this season to take scenic and cultural photos.

Cadet Corps Are Being Inspected By Two Officers

Troops of Edmonton's Cadet Corps were inspected Monday afternoon by Capt. J. P. Freeman, district captain of the district.

Inspection of City High School Cadet Corps were the first to be inspected. Commanding Officer, Mr. W. G. King, was accompanied by Mr. J. P. Freeman, district captain of the district.

Following inspection of the local Cadet Corps, Freeman and King, accompanied by Mr. J. P. Freeman, district captain of the district, will visit Edmonton, Red Deer, Calgary, and other cities.

Capt. Freeman was expected to be in the district for a week or two.

Your Baby And Mine

The mother who turns up her nose at regular routine, and does things according to whim and not according to plan, is failing to recognize that the planned routine for the baby is his first taste of discipline.

How, otherwise, can we possibly discipline a baby? Can we expect him when he won't sleep, when he cries when he refuses his vegetables or puddle him when he cries and then doesn't want any more? Money for the week thought of a day.

Daddy people don't treat babies that way. But babies have to learn that there are rules they must live by, just as there are rules which govern the lives of those who please themselves.

Babies cry very easily and if we feed them whenever they cry, it is like saying to them, "Cry and you shall be fed." They will learn to cry for food and cry for food and cry for food and cry for food.

He may cry, but he gets turned over in bed, or he gets a drink of water or he gets nothing, if he doesn't get food until it is time for food.

Once he learns to control his crying, because it is a selfish effort, he has learned one of the first steps in self-discipline—the very thing we are trying to teach him. Everything that happens to the baby all day is discipline. It is the discipline that he learns at the play dates without giving thought to what pleases others. He finds, when he isn't fed when he cries, that eventually he doesn't get what he wants. He soon learns to begin to wobble himself until it is time to eat. He is responsible for that.

He waits for his bedtime until after he has had his long midday nap because he's become used to going out to sleep. In fact, he learns by being kept to his routine, that his day does not proceed according to his own whims and fancies, but according to a regular plan which is dictated by the clock. Of course, babies don't know that, but that's not for himself. All that happens is that he accommodates himself to this plan because it makes him happier and apparently it makes his mother happier. He finds that his mother smiles upon him, that his stomach is at ease, that his sleep is welcome and refreshing. He soon learns that this discipline is not a punishment, but a habit. It is the discipline which has taught Baby to wait for anticipated events instead of demanding that things should come about because he will have them.

The left-hand column defines seven-letter words from which two letters can be removed to leave five-letter anagram words. To find definitions on the corresponding lines at the extreme right. The two letters that are removed must be put in two middle columns, but you must decide which goes on the left side and which on the right, because the letters in these columns spell out famous mythological words. One is that of an Egyptian warrior, and the other is his wife, noted for her fidelity to him.

The answer to the puzzle is: An Egyptian warrior, Anubis; his wife, Isis.
